Maths4Girls 	BM 4 & 5	Session: 29.4.21 "Maths, statistics and careers"	Maths4Girls (M4G) is a fully funded initiative available throughout the UK, designed to assist educators to increase the proportion of girls pursuing maths beyond GCSE. M4G connects girls aged 11 to 14 with real life, inspirational role models to demonstrate the possibilities and career options that maths can open up. Role models would speak with groups of young people online or in-person, explaining what their job is, what that means and why it matters, and how they got there. These encounters consist of a 30-60 minute discussion followed by Q&As with a selection of industry role models.
